

ASH-TREE PRESS

Newsletter: August 2009

This newsletter is intended to update you on forthcoming titles, and bring you details of some very special offers which are currently available. We are all looking for bargains in these difficult economic times, and we believe that the prices we are able to make available (in some cases as low as $25 for a hardback book) for a short time will enable our readers to extend their Ash-Tree collections in a relatively painless way.

Full details of the special offer pricing appear overleaf. If you wish to, please use that listing as your order form. Alternatively, of course, you may place your order by email (ashtree@ash-tree.bc.ca), by fax ((250) 453-2075), or by telephone ((250) 453-2045). We expect this offer to run through the remainder of August and for the whole of September. Previous special offers are now cancelled.

POSTAGE

To make the special offer even sweeter, we're helping out with postage costs, too. The following rates apply to items on the special price list:

North America: One book $9.00; further books $3.00 each up to $21.00;
6 books or more: Post Free.

Rest of World: One book £7.00; further books £3.00 each up to £19.00;
6 books or more: Post Free.

RECENT TITLES

In case you missed seeing information, or are unable to visit our website regularly, you may like to know that the most recent titles are:

The Villa Désirée and Other Uncanny Tales by May Sinclair;

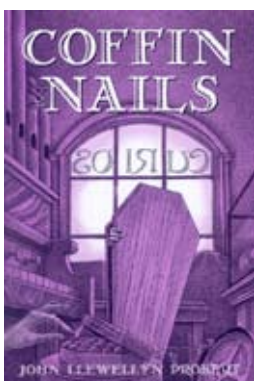

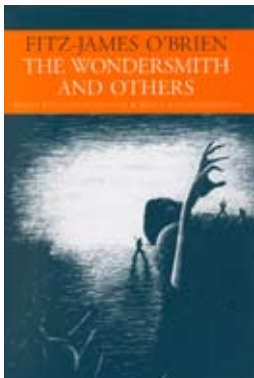

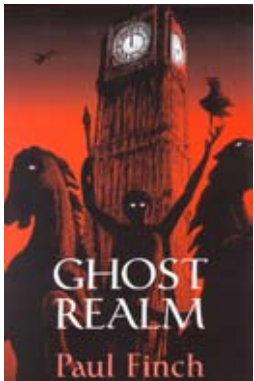

Ghost Realm by Paul Finch;

Coffin Nails by John Llewellyn Probert;

Rope Trick by Mark P. Henderson;

The Wondersmith and Others by Fitz-James O'Brien;

City of the Sea and Other Ghost Stories by Jerome K. Jerome

We're currently working on Exotic Gothic 3; Ghosts of Summer by Frances Oliver; The Vampire by Reginald Hodder; and a new, expanded two-volume edition of A Pleasing Terror: The Complete Supernatural Writings of M. R. James. Also forthcoming are collections of short stories by Gary McMahon, Simon Kurt Unsworth, John Whitbourn, Lawrence C. Connolly, and the complete short supernatural fiction of Lisa Tuttle; and a collection of novellas by Steve Duffy. Full details will follow in due course.

From Ash-Tree Press, we hope you enjoy the remainder of your summer, and that fall and winter will provide you with the opportunity for lots of suitably spooky reading.
